

WTS Paradigm Supports Homes for Our Troops with Financial Contribution

WTS Paradigm embraces - 'tis the season for giving

WTS Paradigm, (www.wtsparadigm.com) the leader in fenestration software for dealers and manufacturers, donated a significant monetary contribution to Homes for our Troops (www.homesforourtroops.org) to assist with completing a Wisconsin home project for injured war veteran, US Army Specialist, Jason Schulz.

SPC Jason Shultz, from Eagle, will never forget November of 2007. Shultz was going through a routine vehicle recovery mission in Mosul, Iraq when his Recovery Wrecker he was riding in was hit by an IED. This explosion severed both legs and damaged his right hand. Since this tragic event, Jason has been going through continuous physical therapy and rehabilitation. In 2009, Shultz was selected by Homes for our Troops to receive a handicap accessible house built in his hometown, Eagle, WI to help him better live with his disability.

In Shultz YouTube video on the Homes for our Troops website, he thanks everyone who has helped build and provide him with a handicap accessible home. Schultz stated that the home is, "going to help me get some freedom." To view Jason's complete story, go to <http://www.homesforourtroops.org/site/PageServer?pagename=JasonSchulz>.

WTS Paradigm was among a handful of giving sponsors to help with donations to complete the build out for Jason's home. Owners of WTS Paradigm, Nathan Herbst and Lyn Hartl both requested participation in this donation. "Medford, WI was recently honored to have a presentation of the Vietnams Veterans Memorial and it made us think of ways that we could give back to people who have given everything for our freedom," stated, Founder of WTS Paradigm, Lyn Hartl, "Helping Jason was a way to reach out to those who serve in Wisconsin and to show our thanks for their service."

In addition, Cole Hartl, son of Lyn and Wendy Hartl will be joining active duty. In early 2010, Cole will be deployed to Iraq with his troop #273 Sapper Co. from Medford, WI.

Throughout the holiday season, all of us have a focus to be with family. We often forget about the thousands of troops fighting for our country who are missing their families and holiday events this time of year. "Our donation is a small thank you for all who have served and are serving overseas," said, President of WTS Paradigm, Nathan Herbst.

This is the second of two significant non-profit donations that WTS Paradigm contributed to in 2009. Back in August, WTS Paradigm and their employees donated and helped to install windows for a habitat for humanity home in McFarland, WI. WTS is looking forward to continuing their focus on furthering charitable contributions and non-profit participation in 2010.
